Bioplastic Shelf Bins

Why is bioplastic better for the environment than classic plastic?

When we use renewable raw materials such as wood, which absorbs CO2 during its life, at the end of the production process, more carbon dioxide can be retained than is released into the atmosphere during production. The end product can thus be carbon neutral or carbon negative.

- >> Reduce the environmental impact of industry
- >> Reduce the use of non-renewable resources
- >> Positively affect our planet’s well-being

Distribution Pallets

- » Lightweight pallets are ideal for multi-trip logistic operations, making significant fuel savings over heavier pallets
- » Unlike timber pallets there are no splinters or metal fixings that could damage contents or injure personnel
- » Eco Pallets - when not in use, pallets nests by 62% of overall height for even greater savings on return transport. Do not harbour wood-born pests &, so, do not have to be treated for export. Also have a constant tare & do not absorb water or contaminants
- » Heavy Duty Pallets are ideal for heavier loads
